

Points are average marginal effects of a 1 SD increase in the independent variable with 95% confidence intervals.